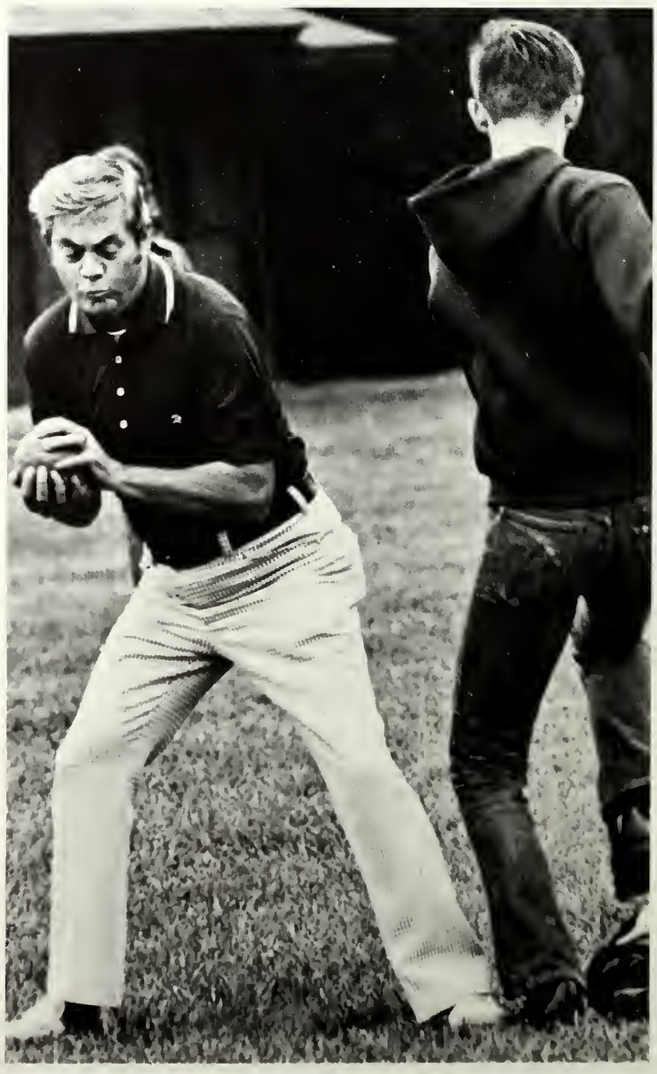
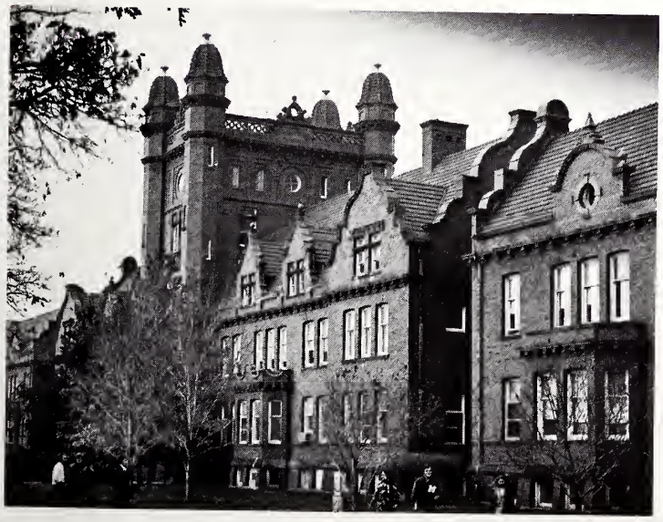
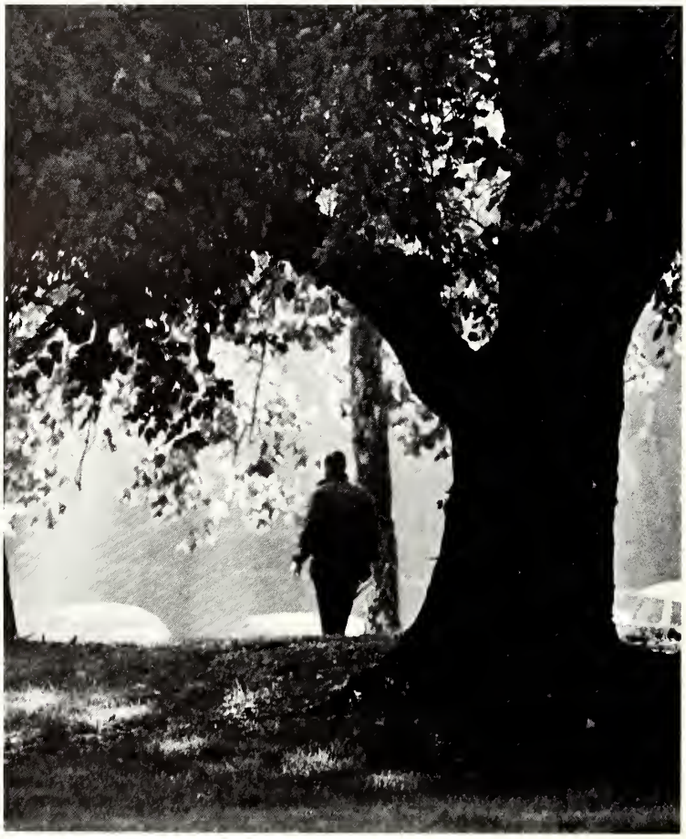
We must appreciate what life is - - -
to become a part of it,
to add what we can,
to achieve great and small things.





We live in preparation of the future - - - planning, learning, understanding; using the present as our means.



There may have been or may be better times but this very own is ours . . .
Here and now.

Have you ever thought about "the other guys" life at Millikin? Living in the dorms or at home or at "the house"? Being a Greek or an Independent? Going home every weekend or staying on campus? Studying in the stacks or the Sub or in front of the T.V. in your room? Being involved in things on campus or just going your own way?
Someone once said there are many Millikins. They couldn't have been more right. Everyone has their own Millikin. That's their privilege. "—For this our very own, Here and now."

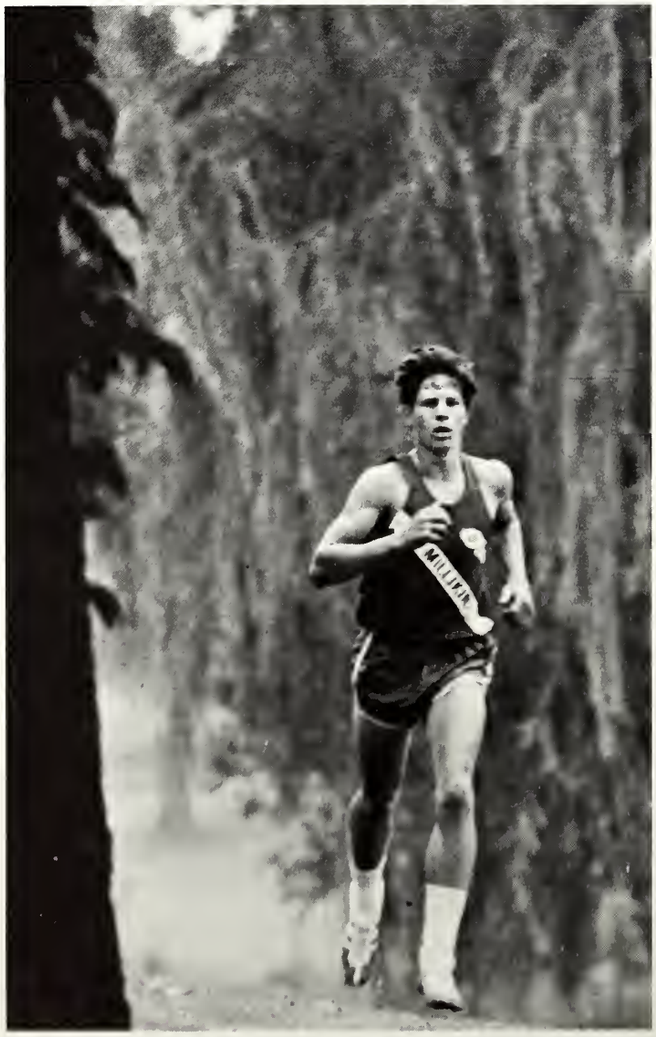
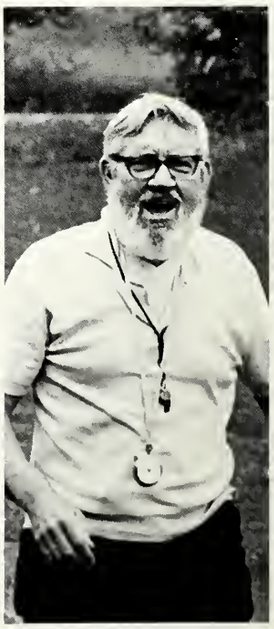
on the run





1973—a rebuilding year for Big Blue cross country. A lack of returning lettermen caused difficulties for Coach Johannson, but promising freshmen Jeff Korando and Jim Bos, now with a year of experience behind them, offer a brighter outlook for next year's season. Senior Chris Olsen, the team's only veteran, finished well in several meets, beating his own record by ten seconds in the Illinois Intercollegiate Championships (5 miles in 25:59 minutes) and capturing second place in the NAIA district.

alone in my room

writing poems
an assembly line
trying to please
myself
and the wardens
skipping the party downstairs
'cause I need to get to bed priorities
pseudo cum laude

together
in an environment to scholarly achievement prepared
consequently bored
for $9/hr
smiling when you'd rather spit manners before honesty
passing time
listening to lectures
talking to walls
removing my face at five when all the doors shut

alone killing brain cells watching those faces-so intent on nothing
thinking
not about the week or year ahead
but about tomorrow
when they'll have to beat the old lady and escape to the pub
to watch those faces-so intent
on nothing
thinking

together
with my friends
driving the van with the tie-dye curtains to the country
feeling hip
while they choke
and the smoke
burns my eyes and theirs
what a man
it doesn't matter that I'm straight that they see yellow elephants and I see yellow lines

alone in my room
intent
thinking
not about the week or year ahead
but about tomorrow

How about tomorrow?

The end of the fourth year – and, the end of many frustrations. A lot of work goes into earning a diploma. It's a proud measure of achievement.

It is also a symbol of a new beginning. The time for a new search. A search for a job or more education; a place to work and live. Whatever your circumstance, you are about to enter a different universe.

If you choose to work for a company, choose one you can become a part of – a company whose corporate ethics and posture in the community are above reproach. Choose a company whose products or services contribute to the betterment of mankind. One with the freedom that will allow you to develop and best utilize your own capabilities.

It's not easy to find the right place. But the search can be worth the effort.
